

I just posted an online conversation with Ken Werbin from Montreal on my blog. The dialogue deals with lists—from electronic mailinglists (like nettime) to lists that Nazi bureaucrats made of Jews and others that had to be deported. What happens when you create a list? What are the technologies and what continuities are there?