

In Paris I got a copy of Sens Public Cahier 7/8 entitled L'Internet entre savoirs, espaces publics et monopoles from the Sens Public editor Gérard Wormser. It's a great contribution, in French, to critical Internet theory from a humanities perspective. My essay in French got the title Blogging, l'impact nihiliste. The publication brings together the contributions to the seminar that took place in Paris on January 20/21 2006 at the Collège international de philosophie, organized by Paul Mathias, Françoise Massit-Folléa and Gérard Wormser. The book-magazine contains articles by Yannick Maignien, Paul Mathias, Robert Damien, Éric Guichard, Gérard Wormser, Laurence Allard, Jos De Mul, Joëlle Zask, Michel Rocard, Dominique Boullier, Thierry Leterre and Françoise Massit-Folléa.
