

There is an interview with me by Winfried Rust in the latest issue of the German Third World magazine iz3w on the spread of internet and mobile phones in the global South. This solidarity and a special issue on “digital worlds”. The text is called “An End to Cultural Pessimism” and was conducted in German. You can read it here.